

Welcome to Third Grade!

The third grade teachers are so excited to get to know you and see all that you learned in second grade. We want to make sure that you ready to jump into third grade. To take that first leap we have a list of ideas that can help you feel confident and ready to learn from day 1!

It is important to keep your brain active over the summer. Some activities you could participate in could be:

Language Arts:

- Read 10 mins Daily (attached log)
- Reading Plus / Lexia
- Keep A Summer Journal

Mathematics:

- Printable Math Packet
- Iready
- Practice Math Facts (Addition and Subtraction)
- As A Challenge Practice Multiplication and Division

If you bring back a completed math packet and reading log by the first week of school, your teacher will have a prize for you!

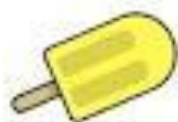

We are so excited to see you next year!

Writing Journal Ideas

- What is the happiest you have ever been?
- What age are you most looking forward to in the future? Why?
- What is the most interesting thing you've ever done? What makes it so special?
- What is your greatest talent? Where did you learn it?
- Name one thing that you could help someone else learn how to do. Then, explain how you would teach the person to do it.
- Where do you go when you want to spend time by yourself? What do you do there?
- Are you better at making up ideas or figuring out how to make things work? Give an example of a time you did one of these things well.

- Make a list of 10 things you could tell someone about to help him or her get to know you better.
- What is something that most people would find surprising about you? Why would they be surprised?
- Who is your best friend? What makes the two of you get along so well?
- Would you rather have one or two very close friends, or a large group of more casual friends? Why?
- What is something that your mom or dad always tells you? Why do you think he or she says this so much?
- If you could trade any one quality about yourself for another, what would you choose? Why?
- Make a list of five things that always make you smile and explain what you love about each one.
- What will always be a mystery to you? Why?
- What is the greatest gift you've ever received?
